Congratulations to all of the other prizewinners as well. Thanks to Harry Sabine, Patricia Knight, Roy Manners, Jim Lech, and Karrie & Robert Hendrickson for all of their hard work!

The four State Scholastic Regionals have just finished. The qualifiers will battle for the State Championship in Cookeville in three weeks. For all four Regions, check out <http://www.homestead.com/tncchessorg/> for the results. Thanks to Tom Purucker, Gary Gillespie, Chris Prosser, and Bill Cummings for all of their very hard work!

By Roy Manners

Well, the tradition continues at the North Tennessee Winter Open. For the third year in a row, attendance at this tournament has increased over the previous year. This year 133 players from seven states took part. The North Tennessee Winter Open is quickly becoming one of the premier Chess events in Tennessee. For those of you who missed it, you missed an excellent opportunity to take home some prize money. 41 players walked away with a share of the $4000 prize fund this year. That's 31% of the players in the tournament. There are very few tournaments where 1/3 of all the players take home prize money. The North Tennessee Winter Open with its smaller sections, and more prizes to compete for offers regular tournament players a great chance to compete and win.

The NTWO was held in Clarksville on January 19th and 20th 2002. The TCA gained 27 members from this tournament. The official Chess vendor at the NTWO was Chessco. If you didn't attend, you missed one of the best Chess stores that's been available in Tennessee in a long time. You can check out the Chessco web site at <http://www.chessco.com> We will certainly be trying to get them to come back again.

NTWO Champions this year are as follows:

Kings: Peter Bereolos

Knights: Curtis Barkley

Queens: Ellis E. Jones

Pawns: William Clement

Books: John Simons
Lee Miller

Unrated: Nick West

Bishops: Joe Wright

A complete list of all money winners is available on the TCA web site at: www.tnchess.org

The crosstables are also on the web site. So check it out. The TCA web site is one of the best Chess sites in the United States.

The NTWO is definitely one good tournament, but as always we wish to find ways to make things better for the Chess players of Tennessee. You may see some modifications to the tournament next year, and if you have any ideas on how to make the tournament better please send them to me at roybintn@msn.com

Lee Miller Annotates Game (NTWO)

White: Robert Hydzik 1619      Black: Lee Miller 1721

4th round, 2nd board: NTWO 2002

Note: Lee prefers the traditional German notation.

1.c4 g6 2.g3 Bg7 3.Bg2 c5 4.e3 Sc6 5.Sge2 Sf6 6.d4 cxd4 7.exd4 d5 8.c5 White now has a permanent advantage on the queenside, and Black must look to the center and ultimately the kingside for counter play. ...Bg4 9.Sbc3 0-0 10.0-0 Se4 Black essays a desperate provocation. OTB analysis found 11.Sxe4 dxe4 12.Bxe4 Sxd4 with play for Black. Unassisted home analysis revealed White to be winning after 11.Sxe4 dxe4 12.d5 Se5 13.Bxe4 Sf3+ 14.Kg2 Sd4 15.f3 where Black's aggression is punished. 11.f3 Sxc3 12.bxc3 Bf5 13.Be3 b6 14.f4 bxc5 15.dxc5 e6 16.Sd4 Unexpected counter play that threatens either to remove Black's best blockading piece, or to create a protected passer in the event that such an exchange is prevented. With his next move, Black gambles that his remaining pieces will be better than their counterparts, and that any attempt by White to open the position will provide some sort of compensation. ...Bxd4 17.cxd4 Qa5 18.g4 Be4 19.Bxe4 dxe4 20.Qc2 f5 21.gxf5 gxf5 22.Qc4 White has activated his queen with tempo. Black's vulnerable king is being exploited, and his vaunted knight is unprotected. In the event of any retreat, White will begin pressing forward with his deadly pawns. To quote Iossif Dorfman "If for one of the players the static balance is negative, he must without hesitation employ dynamic means, and be ready to go in for extreme measures." (p.06, The Method In Chess) ...Kf7 23.d5 Qa3 24.Bcl Qh3 I define a maneuver as a move that, while making no direct threats (i.e. it does not check, threaten a piece, or threaten a mate in one) instead threatens to create threats. For class players, it is often the hardest kind of move to see while conducting an attack, and the easiest to miss in defense. 25.dxe6+ Ke7 26.Qe2 Sd4 27.Qf2 Sf3+ 28.Khl Rg8 29.Bb2 For the moment, the entire game has become a fight for the g1-square, and so 29.Be3 is essential, perhaps even saving. ...Rg6 30.Rgl Rag8 Black's ambitions go beyond winning the exchange. The real target is the second rank. A blunder ends the game before the eventual ...Rg2 would have. 31.Rxg6 Rxg6 32.Rgl White resigns

Columbia - Cumberland County Chess Match

by Gary F. Gillespie

Cumberland County finished second in the match, while Columbia finished next to last--which means, if you are familiar with this old joke or can do the math, that COLUMBIA WON our inaugural match.

Outranked on every board of the eight boards except board one, the match should have been a blowout for Columbia. But, Cumberland County won 5 of the 8 morning matches and led 5 to 3 at the lunch break. Of course, Columbia may have been rattled by the fact that three of their members showed up about 15 minutes late for the morning match complaining about 4 lanes on I-65 merging to 1 and a house being moved down the interstate creating massive traffic jams.

In the afternoon matches, Columbia came roaring back to win 6-1/2 of 8 matches to win the overall match 9-1/2 to 6-1/2. I've attached a photo of the winners holding the Challenge Cup trophy. We will probably play this match once a year: next time in the spring of 2002.

What the TCA Does for You

By Kent Meadows

Recently someone asked the TCA Board exactly what the TCA does. I thought it might be a good idea to share some things with the rest of the membership as well. Here is TCA Internet Coordinator Patricia Knight's statement:

"The Tennessee Chess Association is the official governing body for the development and growth of chess within the state of Tennessee. Organized in 1947, the TCA is a non-profit corporation [501-(c) (3)]. Administered by the Board of Directors, it is an affiliate of the United States Chess Federation and, among other things, serves as a source of support and direction for clubs, scholastic programs, and competition in Tennessee.

The TCA Board of Directors is comprised of volunteers that devote much time and energy to govern organized chess within the state. They are a combination of long-standing members as well as newly elected ones, and are from every region of the state.

Tennessee has long been a leader in promoting scholastic chess. Tennessee consistently ranks in the top five states in the total number of scholastic affiliates, scholastic members and in scholastic members based on population. The TCA sponsors four Regional Individual tournaments, the State Individual Finals, four Regional Team tournaments, and the State Team Finals each year. In addition there is a scholastic only tournament held in conjunction with the Tennessee Open each year. This does not include the additional tournaments the Regional Coordinators and Board Members are asked to assist as a TD, computer operator, or in organizing the event by individual schools throughout the state.

The TCA sponsors the Tennessee Open for our State Championship each year, the North Tennessee Winter Open and the Tennessee Quick Chess Championships. These tournaments are open to all players.

The Tennessee Chess News is published and mailed to all members quarterly. The TCN includes news and information concerning tournaments, tournament results, submitted articles, a list of Board Members with contact information, and other information of interest. In addition to the newsletter, the TCA can be found online at www.tnchess.org. You will find information concerning tournaments, scholastic chess, tournament results, the history of chess in Tennessee, membership information, a list of clubs in the state of Tennessee, the TCA Hall of Fame, and other areas of interest.

We hope you will join us in our endeavor to ensure continued growth of Chess in Tennessee. As volunteers, the Board of Directors and Regional Coordinators are not paid, but the rewards of promoting a positive, challenging, anyone can play game is incomparable."

It is hard to add much to what she said, but I would also like to say that we are the representing organization for Tennessee to the USCF. Our support for Scholastics across the State helps build the Chess community of tomorrow. We have the USCF Clearinghouse for the State, as well as the State Tournament Coordinator, who helps prevent tournaments from coinciding.

To summarize, the TCA itself sponsors:

1. The Tennessee Open. The 1999 Tennessee Open (Open Section) had 8 masters (including one GM, one IM), 9 Experts, and 17 "A" players. The Tennessee Open is a Heritage Event that has produced some of the best games ever played in Tennessee.
2. The North Tennessee Winter Open
3. The Regional Individual Scholastic Qualifiers
4. The Individual State Scholastic Championship
5. The Regional Team Scholastic Qualifiers
6. The Team State Scholastic Championship.
7. The Tennessee Chess News
8. The www.tnchess.org website for the TCA
9. The Tennessee Chess Hall of Fame
10. Delegates & voting members for US Chess Federation
11. The USCF Tournament Clearinghouse for Tennessee
12. The TCA Tournament Guaranty Program

Here are some comments from National Master Mark Ishee (the FFTC Executive Director):

"A complete historical list of everything TCA has ever done for the chess players of Tennessee during the past 50 years would be many pages long.

We have a Tennessee Chess Association because it obviously benefits us to do so, both locally and statewide. The alternative is for every chess club and city/county chess group to exist independently, with little or no connection between them. Imagine that none of the things on the list above ever took place -- no state championship, no state scholastics, no tournament clearinghouse, no state magazine or website, and no representation in the USCF. You know what that leaves? Nothing organized at all -- just a few small splinter groups of fanatics playing chess with each other in splendid isolation. ...

The Tennessee Chess Association has NO life apart from the chess players of our state. We are the TCA -- all of us who like to play chess, especially in tournaments. In return for paying a very modest fee once per year, we can all benefit enormously, as outlined above. Every year the chess players of Tennessee vote for TCA officers who volunteer their time to represent our collective interests, often at great personal expense. ...

The current benefits of statewide cooperation are very obviously greater than a $10 value to each individual. This does not even take into account the new programs TCA is implementing; namely, statewide chess teaching programs and other charitable benefits, administered through its affiliation with the Foundation for Tennessee Chess."

It's hard to write better than Mark. As TCA President, I would like to take this opportunity to ask that everyone consider not just being a TCA Member, but becoming a Patron Member. As a Non-Profit Organization, we cannot exist without the good will and contributions of the Chess Players of the State of Tennessee. We rely on your donations to exist as well as to better serve you. Please look on the TCA website at:

<http://www.homestead.com/tnchessorg/patronmem.html> and <http://www.homestead.com/tnchessorg/patronmembers.html>

for more details. We would greatly appreciate your help, for without your good will, there would be no TCA. Thanks, Kent

BEREOLOS REPEATS AS KNOXVILLE CHAMPION

by Peter Lahde

Peter Bereolos again won the Knoxville Championship with the perfect score of 5-0. Second place was taken by Jonathan Alexander (1615) with 3.5 followed by John Eric Vaughan with 3 points. Peter did not have as strong competition as in years past but still had some tough games. He also lost a game to Nicholas Barber in the Qualifying tourney, but Nicholas did not compete in the finals. Richard Westbrook won the Amateur Section.

[Leonard Dickerson]

This game again demonstrates that scholastic players with miniscule ratings must be approached as potential goliaths. In this game, Bobby shows the promise that will make him a force in the future, making two excellent moves that even a Class A player would be glad to sport. And Richard Westbrook, eventual winner of the 2001 Knoxville Amateur, was very thankful that Bobby was able to get a win off venerable Lee Stensaker for he feared that Lee would sweep the event since he had been smitten by him. 1.e4 g6 2.Nf3 d6 3.Bc4 e6 4.Nc3 Bg7 5.d3 Ne7 6.0-0 a6 7.Be3 b5! Lee, wily as ever, plays another obscure opening that is borderline "bad" but very dangerous. This sharp move illustrates Lee's ability to catch his opponent off guard by interjecting good moves among his unbooked moves. 8.Bb3 Bb7 [8...b4 9.Na4] 9.Qc1 A good move in case b4 is played and plans to swap off Black's king bishop. h5 Slightly weakening but it does keep the bishops on. 10.Ne2 Probably a waiting move to see what the tricky Stensaker is planning on doing. c5 11.a3 A sequence like c3, Bc2, and d4 would be more purposeful. The move played does not accomplish much. Nbc6 12.c3 Ne5 Better was c4: [12...c4! 13.dxc4 Na5 14.Bc2 Nxc4 And Black would have equalized with his strange opening.] 13.Nxe5 Bxe5 14.f3 Playing cautiously. Perhaps Bc2 followed by f4-f5 is the way to punish Black for delaying castling. Bg7 15.Bg5 Qc7 16.Qf4! Playing a4 to discourage queenside castling seems more to the point. Perhaps this maneuver is an attempt to swap off the black-square bishop with Bf6? 0-0-0?? A tremendous, unforced blunder that topples Black's position. 17.Qxf7 Bf8 18.Bxe6+

This is certainly good enough, but Bf6 or Nf4 would conclude faster. Kb8 19.Nf4 Bc8? [19...Rg8 20.Qf6 Rg7 21.Bh3+-] 20.c4 [20.Bxc8 Rxc8 21.Ne6 Qb7 22.Nxf8 and White speedily converts his big advantage.] 20...Qb7 21.Nxg6 Bxe6 [21...Nxg6 22.Bxd8 Qx7 23.Bxf7 Bg7 24.Bxg6 Rxd8 this sequence would have minimized Black's losses.] 22.Qxe6 Rh7 23.Nxf8 Rxf8 24.Qxd6+ Ka8 25.b4 Okay, but cxb followed by b4 was stronger because it would have ensured the opening of the a-file. bxc4 26.dxc4 Rff7 27.bxc5 Nc6 28.Rab1 Qc8 29.Rb6 Rc7 30.h4 Either Bf4 or R(f)-b stronger. Rhd7 31.Qg6 Rh7 32.e5 [32.Rxc6 Rxc6 33.Qxh7] 32...Ka7 33.e6? Still, Rxc is available. Ne5 34.Qe4 Nc6 35.e7! The logical followup of his 32nd move, and a good way to conserve time since the plan is adequate to finish out a won game. Nxe7 36.Qxh7 Nd5 37.Qg6! Ne7 Avoiding dining on the poisoned rook. 38.Bxe7 Rxe7 39.Rfb1 Qxc5+ 40.Kh2 Qxc4 41.Qxh5 Anything wins, but R(b1)-b4 sets up a long mate. Rg7 42.Qg5! A brilliant way of arresting Black's counterplay. The queen can't be taken because of a two-move mate. This radically demonstrates that even a lower-rated player can see exquisite tactical shots. It is the positional moves that sometimes elude them. [42.Rxa6+ Qxa6 43.Qc5+ Ka8 44.Qf8+ would also achieve a mate.] 42...Qc7+ 43.g3 Rxg5 44.Rb7+! Qxb7 45.Rxb7+ Kxb7 46.hxg5 Kc7 47.Kh3 Kd7 48.Kg4 Ke7 49.Kf5 Kf7 50.g6+ Kg7 51.Kg5 Kg8 52.f4 Kf6 is more decisive. Actually, resignation by Black would not be amiss here. Kg7 53.f5 Kg8 54.f6 a5 55.Kf5 a4 56.Ke5 Kf8 57.Kd5 Kg8 Black made no colossal mistake and Bobby took full advantage of it, demonstrating that any opponent can be dangerous if you don't have active counterplay to compensate for your minor slips. It is a testimony to Bobby's developing ability that he was able to finish off a tough and resourceful opponent--even if he did not find such a flashy kill! Again, "Thank, you!" from Westbrook--"I needed that!"
